

2/5/44

Wills Hall,
Bristol 9.

Dear Mrs Cox,

I have just seen the news that your son has been made Chairman of Power Jets. I knew that Whittle had surrendered his interests in the firm to the Government, and now that it has become a Government business you must be delighted that your son has been given the extremely responsible job of being Chairman - I think no man could wish for a more attractive position now that the possibilities of propulsion by jet are becoming more evident. Jet aircraft are, of course, flying, but where I anticipate your son will be in his element is in the application of jet propulsion to civil aviation. He's a valuable man to have on the job, and you must be proud of him.

I may not see you again before the end of June - I'm working hard!

Yours Sincerely,
Stuart Greenwood

2000.444

Wills Hall
Bristol 9

2.5.44

Dear Mrs Cox

I have just seen the news that your son has been made Chairman of Power Jets. I knew that Whittle had surrendered his interests in the firm to the Government, and now that it has become a Government business you must be delighted that your son has been given the extremely responsible job of being Chairman – I think no man could wish for a more attractive position now that the possibilities of propulsion by jet are becoming more evident. Jet aircraft are, of course, flying, but where I anticipate your son will be in his element is in the application of jet propulsion to civil aviation. He's a valuable man to have on the job, and you must be proud of him.

I may not see you again before the end of June – I'm working hard!

Yours sincerely

Stuart Greenwood