My dearest Mother,

I got home too late to write last night, as I had to call at Hawksers at Kingston after leaving Town. Mayone was not with me as she was helping at a local fete.

You will be pleased to hear that the Royal Aeronautical Society have awarded me the Bursk Memorial Prize this year. I don't know what it is worth yet. It was for the lecture I gave in Nov. 1933, and is considered something of an honour. I shall receive the award at the Conversazione which takes place next Thursday evening.

I was very surprised at the cutting you sent me about Victor

Adams. I have not seen any further news about him. I don't know if the Birmingham newspapers have said anything more. I was sorry to hear that his Father was killed. He was a cheerful man & I always liked him.

This pen is execrable, & my writing in consequence is loose rather odd.

We all send our love &
look forward to seeing you

Your own loving son
