

Defence and Security Doctoral Symposium

13 - 14 November 2018

In association with

Defence and Security Doctoral Symposium

'It has motivated me for my own work'

'The opportunity to learn about other aspects and branches of defence research'

'Good networking opportunities'

What is this event about?

- The only event in the UK that gives defence and security research students and Early Career Researchers an opportunity to present their work to a sector-wide audience
- Hosted by Cranfield University and sponsored by Dstl and AWE
- Covering science, technology, engineering and the social sciences
- Held over a day and a half with an exhibition and event dinner - plenty of networking opportunities

Who should attend?

- Researchers working on defence and security matters
- Supervisors
- Early Career Researchers
- Representatives from industry, government and other defence and security-relevant NGOs

Why should you attend?

- Learn about cutting-edge research in defence and security
- Hear about key issues being investigated across science, technology, engineering and social science focused research
- Network with fellow students and others
- Listen to key note speakers covering key policy-drivers in defence and security
- Engage with defence and security employers

Submissions

We are seeking contributions in five areas:

- Presentations (20 minutes plus 10 mins for questions)
- 3D Installations
- 3MT (3 Minute Thesis) (1 Powerpoint slide)
- Poster Competition
- Digital Image Competition (1 image plus 100-150 words)

To contribute a presentation, 3D installation or 3MT you need to be in your second year and onwards if a full time student or fourth year and onwards if a part time student. The poster and digital image competitions are also open to Early Career Researchers and all research Please fill in the online entry form for your contribution and submit your abstract to the Conference Selection Committee by Monday 23 July 2018.

Date

13 – 14 November 2018

Registration fees

Students – Free of charge

Competition Entrants – Free of charge

Attendance at the Event Dinner – £10

Delegate fee is £250 (inclusive of attendance at the Event Dinner)

What should you do now?

Details and further information on how you can register to secure a place are on our Defence and Security Doctoral Symposium webpage. Display and sponsorship opportunities can also be found here.

#DSDS18

www.symposiaatshrivenham.com/doc

Contact

For further details please contact
Caroline Dawson:

T: +44 (0)1793 785268

E: caroline@symposiaatshrivenham.com

www.symposiaatshrivenham.com